UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

MASTER SERGEANT ALLISON J.M. ENCARNACION

Master Sergeant Allison J.M. Encarnacion is the Superintendent, Intelligence Flight, 58th Operational Support Squadron (OSS), Kirtland Air Force Base, New Mexico. The mission of the 58 OSS is to provide training and support to tomorrow's special operations, personnel recovery, and homeland defense warriors using every opportunity to professionalize Airmen and enhance the employment of our Nation's airpower. As the Superintendent, Master Sergeant Encarnacion is the senior enlisted advisor to the Senior Intelligence Officer and assists with leading, mentoring, and managing a team of eleven officer and enlisted Airmen. Her keen leadership empowers her Airmen to provide a broad spectrum of intelligence training and operational support to 58th Special Operations Wing students, instructors and decision-makers facilitating mission-ready special operations, rescue, and national security personnel for duty in hostile threat environments.

Master Sergeant Encarnacion was born in St. Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands and enlisted in the Air Force in February 2006. Her experiences include various duties within the Intelligence career field as well as special duty assignments such as: NCOIC, Commander's Support Staff for the 6th Operations Support Squadron, and Aide-de-Camp for the Director, Joint Interagency Task Force South. She has been assigned to duty locations in Arizona, Florida, and New Mexico and has served at the Squadron, Group, Joint, and National levels. Master Sergeant Encarnacion has deployed in support of Operations Enduring Freedom, Enduring Freedom - Horn of Africa, Iraqi Freedom, and Unified Protector. Prior to her current position, MSgt Encarnacion was the Senior Intelligence Watch Analyst, Joint Interagency Task Force South, Key West, Florida.
